ZINC • B12 • B-COMPLEX • VITAMIN C • TRACE ELEMENTS • MAGNESIUM

HOW DOES IT WORK?

- Vitamin C assists the immune system by aiding in the production of nearly all immune system cells and functions when pathogens are detected. The antioxidant properties of Vitamin C also reduce inflammation and irritation in the tissues caused by free radicals.
- Zinc helps with gene expression and enzyme functions, and prevents infection. It is used in cell growth, cell division, and wound healing. Research shows that zinc can inhibit the process that causes mucus and bacteria to build up in nasal passages. It has also been found that zinc helps prevent colds from occurring.
- B12 and B complex help create energy by acting as cofactors in the metabolism of food, thereby alleviating fatigue.
- Magnesium helps with DNA and RNA synthesis and increases cellular absorption.
